Mayor To Clothie Nude—Nude Sculpture, That Is

By Thomas Kelly

The Mayor, in speaking to the City Council, said that he had been quite surprised to learn of the activities of the new nude sculpture movement.

He said: "I was quite surprised to learn that the nude sculpture movement is not only alive and well, but also quite popular. I had no idea that this movement had spread to our city."

The nude sculpture movement has been gaining popularity in recent years. Many artists are creating sculptures that depict human forms in a natural and unadorned state. Some of these sculptures have been displayed in public spaces, causing controversy among some members of the community.

The Mayor added: "I do not support this movement. I believe that the human body should be covered in public. I will be working to ban nude sculptures in our city."
